
Picsar's Path!

Volume 2

February- April.

Introduction

Hello! It's Picsar here and boy, do we have a lot of catching up to do! I'm five months old now and around 50 pounds (I didn't stay little for very long and I'm even taller than my "GDA sister", Holland). Over the last few months, I have mastered my commands: sit, down, stay and stand... which makes my mom so happy! I've also mastered one of the hardest commands... heeling! My mom says out of all the puppies she's raised, I'm the very best! I stick to her side like glue! I have also started to go out on more outing and I sure do LOVE to work! I have also finished my first obedience class, Puppy K and will be another obedience class in a few weeks! My mom has made sure to exposed me to the out side world slowly so I can have as much confidence as possible! I also, enjoy daily walks around my neighborhood... I'm up to two miles now! Well, it's time for the best part.. PICTURES!

I'm a Growing Boy!

9 weeks!

12 weeks!

16 weeks!

20 weeks!

On the “Job”!

At 14 weeks old, I had my first outing! It was a quick trip to Barnes and Noble. Mom said I did a great job heeling and staying focused on her! I even did my sits and downs without a lure!

Smoothie Stop for the “Human”! The ladies working there thought I was cute!

I went to help my family pick out some blinds for the house!

My first restaurant experience at 16 weeks! I was a good boy and relaxed while the humans had their meal! That's my "GDA sister" Holland. She's always sleeping on the job.

My mom's grandparents come to visit us in April so we took them to Fashion Island on a beautiful Thursday afternoon. It wasn't very busy there so it was perfect for me!

The first picture is Holland and I with my mom's grandparents. Next is me looking at the pretty pond. Next, is me sleeping at lunch, I needed a nap. Lastly, is Holland and I resting while my mom's mom and Grandma shopped!

Softball Game!

I went and supported my mom's sister, Devin, at her softball game!

Thank you SO much for being so generous and sponsoring me! I' having so much fun and learning so much as I train to be a guide dog. As I get older, I'll be able to do more exciting things and I can't wait to show you! This is also the last time my "GDA sister" Holland will appear in my newsletter because she is off to Guide Dog College! I can't wait to grow up and do that too! Once again, Thank you so much Sepulveda Building Materials for Sponsoring me!
